>> Happy Tuesday, V team, and welcome to up to speed live.

We are kicking off the show with something on everybody's minds, especially on mine, the holiday season.

Verizon has the best deals, pro-mos and accessories all season long, so make sure you take note of these awesome deals and make sure to tell your friends and family.

Now for mobile customers, whether you're new or existing, trade in any phone in any condition with your choice of three apple gifts, including the iPhone 16 pro worth up to $2,000 on us, or the new Samsung S24+, or a Google pixel 9 pro, plus, more gives worth up to $1800.

And if you're signing up for Verizon home Internet, it's your choice between two awesome deals as well.

Choose 12 months of our Netflix and mass with ads perk, or an Xbox gaming bundle on us.

And we can't forget about all the accessory deals.

We have everything for everyone, including $30 off the Speck Gemtones Infinity Max and up to $30 off the soundcore family of products.

Make sure you check out these offers and more on the Verizon holiday hub.

Now here is something else you should be sharing with your friends and family.

Verizon news about the Verizon access concert series which provides exclusive concert experiences for Verizon customers.

V teamer Paul Otero got to experience the VIP treatment himself at the recent Beckie G concert in Miami.

Check it out.

>> Right now walking to the Becky G concert.

This is going to be such a great time.

Thank you, Verizon, for this.

Inside, already with the Verizon pieces.

That's how we do it.

That's how we're here.

>> Wow, what an experience.

That was such a vibe and such a good time.

Thank you, Verizon, for the opportunity to bring us out to Becky G.

It was a pleasure.

Met -- that was awesome.

Thank you so much for everything.

>> All right, that was awesome.

Paul, that looked like a true VIP time, and we just want to make sure that all the V teamers can experience that as well, so make sure you go to my Verizon app and score the best entertainment experiences with Verizon access today.

>>> Now turning to Verizon business news, during NFL Sunday we launched our new business brand TV spot, big, small, essential.

Now this work brings to life the outcomes and moments of empowerment that only Verizon business can enable for businesses of all sizes and public sector organizations.

Now I had the chance to see the spot, and I have to say, it looks like awesome breakthrough work.

It's exciting to see creative that has the potential to really defy category norms, and it's a great example of how we're embodying our new chapter here at Verizon.
Now to learn more and watch the new spot in full, we'll have an article in today's story.

>>> All right, well, speaking of innovative solutions, the fifth annual fleet report was just released detailing how fleet management technology continues to serve as a dependable asset for boosting performance across small, medium and enterprise fleets.

If you're curious to read the report, check it out in today's story.

It's full of interesting insights, and the technologies empowering our fleets.

>>> All right, well, since we're on the topic of fleets, let's talk about one very important one and how we're supporting our military.

If you've ever wondered what life is like for those responsible for guarding our -- one of our nation's most powerful strategic deterrents, intercontinental ballistic missiles, that sounds pretty scary, Verizon is making it possible to find out.

We're proud to announce our sponsorship of two episodes of Newsweek's acclaimed YouTube series "Unconventional" which provides a behind-the-scenes look at some of the most highly secure military operations in the world.

The first of these episodes premieres today and takes you behind the scenes at Francis E. Warren air force base in Wyoming.

Our partnership is just another example of our long-standing commitment to serve the military community and our appreciation of the work done every day by those who wear the uniforms of our nation's armed services.

Check out the full episode in today's story.

>>> All right, well, here's some feel-good news before we end today's show.

This month, about 130 retail V teamers at our Atlantic north leadership training event volunteered for an amazing cause.

They assembled care challenges for children who benefit from the safe house foundation that helps kids heal from the experiences of domestic violence.

Founded in 2002 by baseball manager Joe Torre and his wife, safe at home have a mission to end the cycle of domestic violence and save lives.

Joe chatted with Verizon's Atlantic north market president Chris flood about how Joe's childhood motivated him to help kids lead happier, healthier lives.

What an inspiring day and yet another reason to feel proud to be a V teamer.

You can learn more about this volunteering event at the safe at home foundation in the article linked in today's story.

>>> All right, folks, well, that is all we have for today.

Thank you so much for tuning in.

Until next time, you're up to speed.
