

83% of Americans support a new national law to protect consumer privacy.

69% of Americans

believe the federal government is not doing enough to protect their privacy.

86% of Americans

believe the U.S. should be a leader on data protection.

Americans want the same privacy protections regardless of where they live.

73% of Americans

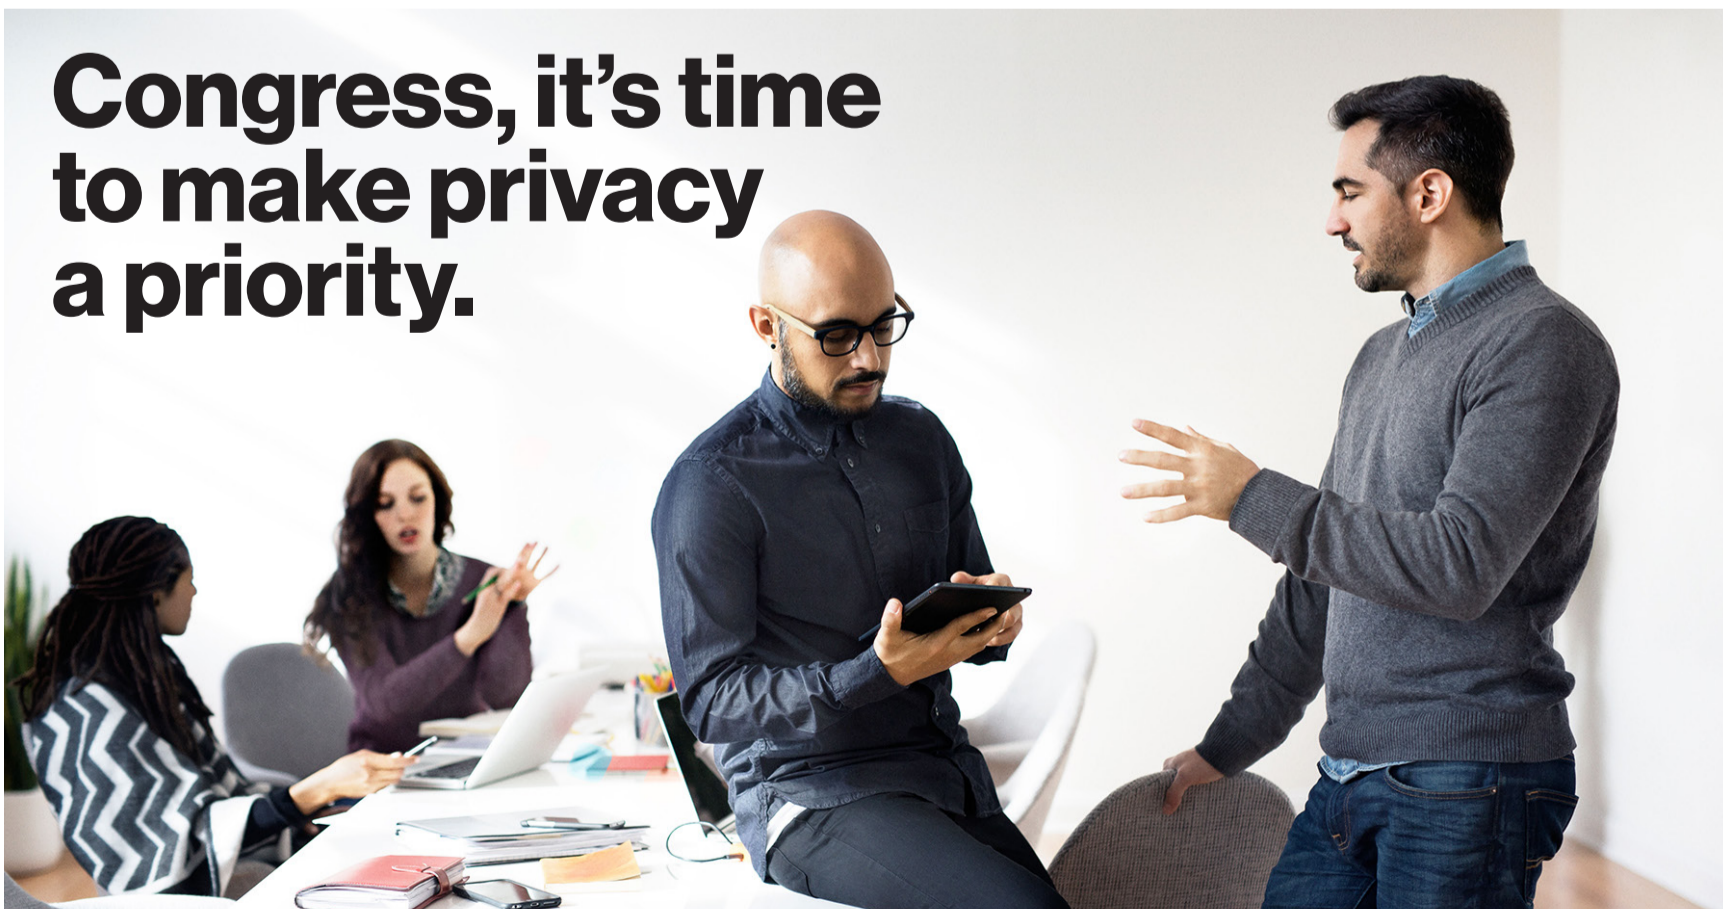

strongly believe that data privacy protections should be the same everywhere for all Americans, whether you're in Augusta, Maine, or Kodiak, Alaska.

74%
Democrats

76%
Republicans

69%
Independents

Congress, it's time to make privacy a priority.

Methodology: This poll was conducted between March 1-March 3, 2019 among a national sample of 1995 Registered Voters. The interviews were conducted online and the data were weighted to approximate a target sample of Registered Voters based on age, educational attainment, gender, race, and region. Results from the full survey have a margin of error of plus or minus 2 percentage points.